

ICD® Virtual Assembly • October 17, 2020 a focus on BRAIN-BASED conditions

10:30am – 6:00pm EST

Register and learn more

Dr. Fugen Neziroglu

ABBP, ABPP — Psychologist,
Co-Founder / Executive Director at Bio-
Behavioral Institute

Neurobiological and Neurochemical Processes of Hoarding Disorder

Dr. Neziroglu will identify the regions of the brain that are affected by Hoarding Disorder (HD) and the cognitive deficits people with HD experience. Recent neuropsychological research findings and how they will impact future treatment of this disorder will be shared along with effective strategies in working with these deficits.

Learn more

Denslow Brown

MCC, CPO-CD®, ICD®
Master Trainer — Founder, Director & Trainer of Coach Approach for Organizers™

Brain Injuries: Impacts, Recovery Patterns & Strategies

Learn from the recovery journeys of three clients who survived very different brain injuries. Changing needs and supports will be explored (information tracking, time and task management, education, communication and adapted space use).

Learn more

Dr. Sheryl Ziegler

L.P.C., R.P.T. — Psychotherapist, Author,
Speaker, Media Contributor

Burnout: How Chronic Stress Effects Cognitive Abilities Related to Executive Functioning and Disorganization

Defined by the WHO, burnout is a syndrome conceptualized as resulting from chronic workplace stress that has not been successfully managed. Cognitive abilities, executive functioning and disorganization are consequences of burnout. Gain specific strategies to address the prevention and treatment of burnout during this session.

Learn more

registration

Our ICD® Virtual Assembly team has planned an outstanding line-up and we want everyone to be able to attend. Have other plans? No problem!

All those who register will receive a recording.

$225 for ICD Subscribers & Affiliates

$275 Non-Subscribers

Earn 4.5 ICD® CEU's

Register now

Registration ends October 5

conference co-chairs

Kc Coolbaugh
CPO-CD®, Master Trainer

Mindy Fairbanks
CPO-CD®